INVERSE AND ILL-POSED PROBLEMS

Dear colleagues!

The conference will be held with the support of the Institute of Computational Mathematics and Mathematical Geophysics of the Siberian Branch of the Russian Academy of Sciences, Novosibirsk and the Mathematical Society ISAAC (<http://www.isaacmath.org/home/>) from 2 to 4 October 2019

The main target of the conference is to present the latest achievements and discuss promising research in various fields of inverse and ill-posed problems and modern problems of mathematical physics.

Conference Sections:

Section 1. Modern problems of the theory of inverse problems and its applications

Section 2. The problem of integral geometry and computed tomography

Section 3. Numerical methods for solving inverse and ill-posed problems

Section 4. Non-classical problems of mathematical physics and analysis

Section 5. Computational and Information Technologies of Mathematical Physics and Analysis

Important Dates

Registration of participants and visa order: until August 20, 2019

Registration of participants and hotel booking: until September 1, 2019

Registration of participants without a visa and hotel: until August 20, 2019

Report theses (1 page): until August 20, 2019

Decision to accept the report: until September 5, 2019

REGISTRATION AND ABSTRACTS OF THE CONFERENCE

Registration is carried out on the website www.iipp.uz or by e-mail uzconf@gmail.com. We recommend booking hotels a month in advance. To provide a hostel for foreign citizens, please contact us in advance by uzconf@gmail.com

Registration fee is 100 US dollars for participants from abroad, 100 thousand soums for participants from Uzbekistan. The fee includes a full package with all conference materials, coffee breaks, selected city tours for participants abroad.

The conference program includes plenary presentations, sectional presentations and poster presentations, as well as mini-symposia. It is planned to publish invited reports in authoritative peer-reviewed scientific journals.

The working languages of the conference are English and Russian.

Conference Language: English and Russian.
